

Mission Statement—Department of Counselor Education

The University of Georgia Department of Counselor Education is dedicated to providing a high-quality, evidence-based education to students in the Department of Counselor Education. We are committed to preparing graduates who are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including schools, community agencies, and mental health centers. Our graduates are expected to be ethical, culturally competent, and effective in their professional roles.

The Department of Counselor Education is committed to providing a high-quality, evidence-based education to students in the Department of Counselor Education. We are committed to preparing graduates who are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including schools, community agencies, and mental health centers. Our graduates are expected to be ethical, culturally competent, and effective in their professional roles. The faculty believes that this program provides a high-quality, evidence-based education to students in the Department of Counselor Education. We are committed to preparing graduates who are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including schools, community agencies, and mental health centers. Our graduates are expected to be ethical, culturally competent, and effective in their professional roles.

The Department of Counselor Education is committed to providing a high-quality, evidence-based education to students in the Department of Counselor Education. We are committed to preparing graduates who are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including schools, community agencies, and mental health centers. Our graduates are expected to be ethical, culturally competent, and effective in their professional roles. The Department of Counselor Education is committed to providing a high-quality, evidence-based education to students in the Department of Counselor Education. We are committed to preparing graduates who are prepared to work in a variety of settings, including schools, community agencies, and mental health centers. Our graduates are expected to be ethical, culturally competent, and effective in their professional roles.

8. Define the digital and application knowledge and skills related to each and generalise

Describe the clinical and health communication expected to be the following objective:

9. Define the digital and application of data and clinical decision-making clinical and health communication and the ability to engage ineffective, ethical clinical and health practices across settings and clients

Describe the health communication expected to be the following objective:

10. Define the digital and application of data and clinical decision-making health communication and the ability to engage, assess and improve ethical health communication in P-12 settings

Describe the clinical and health communication and health communication expected to be the following objective:

11. Define expected levels of personal digital skills and the leadership skills and self-care, personal and self-awareness, and ethical behaviour